SOUTH ASIAN EARTHQUAKE RELIEF

Pakistan-born Captain MacDonald Chandi (presently serving at International Headquarters in London) and Major David Wakefield (United Kingdom Territory) are assisting teams of Pakistani Salvation Army officers in their earthquake relief operations in Pakistan. They were joined by Katie Baddams, a member of the Communications Section at International Headquarters, who will be filing regular reports. These will be published here, together with photographs of the work of The Salvation Army as it brings relief to the survivors of the South Asian Earthquake Disaster in Pakistan.

Stay Up-To-Date:
